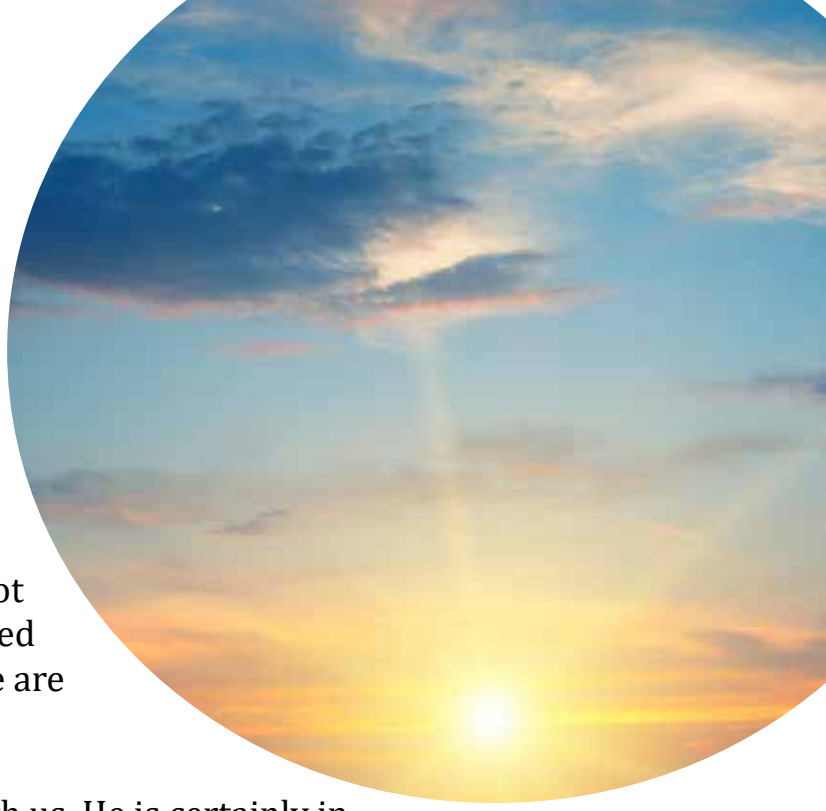
Happy Heart Ministry



Today

I wake up each day hoping that this will be the day that the pandemic has been wiped out, we've been set free and we can go about our normal routine again, and yet today is not the day. The word "normal" has been replaced with "new normal" whatever that may be, we are simply in a state of "unknown uncertainty".

What we do know however, is that God is with us, He is certainly in control of what is happening and His love will prevail. If we will just take a moment, we can see the "good" in people, His light shining through others in this dark time. Think of something that you have either seen on social media, read about in the news, or perhaps participated in yourself that shows kindness, caring, and compassionate people serving others. God's love is still being shared among His people.

I wanted to share with you a special verse I have printed on a small card that I place where I can see it every morning. It is a reminder that "today" is all I have and "today" I will remember that God is with me.

"This is the day the Lord has made, l et us rejoice and be glad in it."
Psalm 118:24

"Today may you be at peace,
Knowing that you are exactly where you
Need to be, and have everything you
Need to fulfill God's purpose for you.

Today may you believe
That you are God's precious child
In whom He is well pleased.

Today may you feel the love
Shining through all of creation
From the beginning of time
Till the end of eternity.

Today may you trust
That all is well,
And you are safe within God's arms...

Forever"
Peace be with you today and always, Amen!
